課程目標 Course Objectives
This multi-disciplinary seminar intends to think about the universality of human rights. Human rights are a powerful idea in our time, but it is also the focus of numerous controversies. The seminar provides from an interdisciplinary perspective (international law, history, philosophy, social anthropology, and theories of international relations) an overview of current issues and debates in the field. A special view is given to the Asia-Pacific Region. Throughout the seminar, concrete case studies will be used to illustrate the range of human rights problems.
